Teaming up with multi award-winning architects Clarke Hopkins Clarke, this collection of multi-faceted modern residences in the heart of Melbourne's masterplanned 'University City', a location that is already delivering impressive results for buyers.

The townhouses are awash with natural light thanks to the floor to ceiling glazing in the dining and living areas. Encouraging alfresco dining and living, the timber-floored open plan ground floor spaces flow through to generous private courtyards. These are spacious enough for plenty of outdoor dining, entertaining and relaxing with friends and family.

The townhouse kitchens are spacious and complete with exquisite, custom-made cabinetry, large island benches with marble finish edging, the latest integrated appliances and plenty of storage.

Bathrooms continue this application of natural materials, with the use of timber grain veneer vanities that hang from the wall for maximum floor
